Ten-Frame Workmats

Give each student a cutout workmat and ten two-color counters. Then guide him to model numbers up to ten. (Give each student a copy of the entire page for modeling numbers to 20.) Use individual workmats to decompose ten into pairs or find the number that makes ten when added to the given number. The mats are great for modeling and solving addition and subtraction problems too!